Profit & Loss Names CitiFX Pro “Best Retail Platform” For Margin FX Trading

London, April 23, 2010 – Profit & Loss, a leading UK magazine following the global currency and derivatives markets, has named Citi’s CitiFX Pro as “Best Retail Platform” for margin FX trading.

The award was presented to Sanjay Madgavkar, Global Head of Margin FX Trading at Citi, at Profit & Loss’ Digital FX Awards Dinner in London on April 15. The award cited CitiFX Pro’s technology advances – including its availability on MetaTrader, the global leader in technical analysis and programmatic FX trading; its commitment to customer service; and customer access to Citi’s award-winning research and FX market commentary—as distinguishing characteristics among FX trading platforms in a highly competitive field.

“We are pleased to receive the Best Retail Platform award from Profit & Loss,” said Sanjay Madgavkar. “We believe the award reflects our continued efforts to bring the best technology, pricing and research to small and mid-sized institutions as well as sophisticated individual traders in the margin FX markets.”

“CitiFX Pro has grown dramatically since its launch in late 2007 and continues to enhance its technological capabilities and its customer service,” said Julie Ros, founder of Profit & Loss. “The emergence of such a strong competitor benefits all margin FX investors.”
